Foreign Spending Cut Seen; U. S. Aid May Shift To Orient

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 — Foreign affairs experts are predicting that the new Republican-controlled Congress will trim U. S. spending abroad, with emphasis on military and economic aid shifting from Europe to Asia.

Foreign aid likely will kick off the first big debate in the 83rd Congress convening Jan. 3. Extension of the Mutual Assistance Program is one of the first things on its agenda.

With Republican leaders just about agreed on a top budget figure of $70 billion in fiscal 1953-54, the foreign spending program faces possibly hefty reductions for the year beginning July 1. The authorization for this year, ending next June, is $6,447,730,750.

Any controversy is certain to center around American outlay of $33,104,867,055 during the postwar years since 1945 and gross foreign spending of some $87 billion since 1940.

MUCH OF THE money authorized and appropriated is as yet unspent. As of last June, the mutual security program showed a $5 billion balance earmarked for guns, aircraft and the like. Funds not obligated and carried over amounted to $400 million.

Rep. Lawrence Smith of Wisconsin, fourth-ranking Republican member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, said the whole foreign aid program must be reviewed and reduced. He said:

"I don't think the country will stand for any more all-out spending. We owe it to the country to sit down in bipartisan fashion and take a good look at the new problems which have arisen."

Among such problems, Smith said, are European failure to meet rearming goals of the North Atlantic Treaty program, France's financial troubles and the free world's improved economic status.

Smith said President-elect Eisenhower has heretofore been concerned chiefly with Western Europe, adding:

"I'm hoping when Ike goes to Korea he gets a picture of this Asiatic situation."

Republicans in Congress have been loudly critical of what they call the Democratic administration's "failure" to protect Asia from Communist aggression.

Army Censor Facing Trial Over His Book

FT. MEADE, Md., Nov. 20 — Lt. Col. Melvin B. Voorhees, Army censor in Korea accused of writing a book that wasn't censored, will be court-martialed here.

Second Army headquarters announced Wednesday that it would push charges against Voorhees for his book, "Korean Tales," which, in his own words "took a slap at a large part of the correspondents corps, which I felt was violating security and endangering lives."

Voorhees is charged with failing to submit a manuscript of his book to the Department of Army for review and disregarding the order of his commanding officer to withdraw the book from publication.

The charges were filed by Gen. Joseph Swing, commander of the Sixth Army on the West Coast but the investigation was switched here so Swing would not have to act as both prosecutor and judge.

Voorhees said his book, published Armistice Day, ran into a "one-general barrier" in the person of Brig. Gen. Frank Dorn, deputy information officer at the Pentagon in Washington. Voorhees contends Dorn opposed the book because "he said I had no right to write a story which reflected against Gen. Douglas MacArthur."

Meanderings

By Wash Fayette

During the last 60 years newspapers like most everything else, have undergone some big changes—and for the better.

I was impressed with this when I scanned a copy of a newspaper published Nov. 9, 1892, a matter of 60 years ago, giving details (insofar as possible at that time) of the Democratic sweep which carried Grover Cleveland into the White House.

All of the pictures in the paper were made from wood engravings. Three of the successful candidates for leading officers wore long chin whiskers and the other three heavy mustaches.

The lead story on the election had a single column head with 17 decks, or drops. The head writer reflected the bitterness which was so characteristic of politics in those days.

Here's part of the headlines including the decks:

It's a Waterloo. The country turns back the hands of progress one hundred years.

"Cleveland and Stevenson (it was Adlai E. Stevenson, ancestor of the present day Adlai Stevenson, who won the vice-presidency) with free trade and wild cat currency are the winners.

"A result that is a surprise to the Democrats and an eyeopener to Republicans.

"But Illinois, home of Grant, and Lincoln, disgraces herself by going Democratic."

"The immense registration in Chicago effectively turns the survey trick.

"The south as solid as a rock and Populists are wiped off the earth."

"But let the tail go with the hide, for its all up with our end of the string."

Certainly the headlines in those days were quite different from those of today.

Truman 'Happy' About Ike Views On Korean War

Outgoing President Says U. S. Is 'Unified Organization In Its Policy Toward World'

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 — President Truman said Thursday he is very happy over Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's views on the Korean prisoner of war issue, and declared "this country is a unified organization in its policy toward the rest of the world."

In his first post-election news conference—his first in fact since Sept. 25—Truman laid emphasis on unity and on the effort to make the shift of power to President-elect Eisenhower as smooth as possible.

He began with this statement: "I want you to understand that the election is over and that we are trying to get things in shape to make an orderly turnover of the government to the successor, and that we want to let the world know that this country is a unified organization in its policy toward the rest of the world."

"I was very happy to see that Gen. Eisenhower had told Sen. Wiley that he was with (sic) the policy on the prisoners of war in Korea. That was one of the main things about which we talked in the meeting the other day when he was down here."

EISENHOWER and Truman met at the White House on Tuesday and later announced jointly that they had arranged for an exchange of information. They expressed belief this cooperation would be to the advantage of the country and promote a favorable progress of international affairs.

Wednesday, Eisenhower had a meeting in New York with Sen. Wiley of Wisconsin, who will become chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in the new Republican Congress.

Wiley said Eisenhower "is completely dedicated to the principles of the UN and re-emphasized his agreement with the principle of no forcible repatriation of Communist prisoners."

Truman said last Tuesday's meeting with the President-elect was given over almost entirely to foreign affairs.

He said the prisoner of war issue was one of the subjects discussed and that they also talked about the Iranian problem.

He didn't give any details.

Truman said he expects to meet Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson sometime around Dec. 1, when the defeated Democratic presidential candidate is coming to Washington. He regards Stevenson as the head of the Democratic Party.

Laughingly, Truman said in reply to a question that it is very much too early to discuss what he himself will do after leaving the White House.

HE WENT ON to say he does not know himself yet what he will do eventually, that for a while he is not going to do anything but sit down and enjoy himself.

He said he'd have some information to make public about his plans on Jan. 21, the day after inauguration. He did say, however, he does not plan to maintain an office or an apartment in Washington.

Reporters asked several questions about statements Republican Sen. Robert A. Taft has made as to possible cuts in government spending.

Truman brushed them aside by saying Taft hasn't seen the 1953-54 budget and therefore does not know a thing about what's in it. The President said he will submit the budget to Congress in January just the same as if he were going to continue as President.

He said it will be a good, tight budget. In fact, he added, all his budgets have been honest, and even though the Republicans have fought over all of them they never have been able to do very much trimming.

A reporter told him Rep. John Taber (R-N.Y.) has said he had heard some outgoing officials were burning office files. Truman said he has not heard anything like that, and he added he does not think Taber has either.

For Taber's information, Truman added, the law permits the destruction of files if they are at least five years old and are no longer needed. It's up to the President and heads of executive departments to decide whether files should be destroyed.

Jet Chalks Up New World's Speed Mark

THERMAL, Calif., Nov. 20 — A flame-spewing F86 Sabrejet plane piloted by Capt. J. Slade Nash of Edwards Air Force Base has established a new unofficial world speed record—699.9 miles per hour.

Capt. Nash, 31, whose home is in Mobile, Ala., made four low-level passes Wednesday over a measured three-kilometer course at the edge of the Salton Sea, 235 feet below sea level.

His performance was made under rules of the Federation Aeronautique Internationale and the National Aeronautics Association, which must verify it before it becomes official.

In shattering the record for operational aircraft in the North American all-weather interceptor, Capt. Nash topped the 670-981 miles per hour mark set last Sept. 15 by Maj. Richard L. Johnson at Edwards AFB. Johnson used an earlier Sabre model, the F86a.

AT HIS TOP speed Nash's plane nosed toward the dangerous compressibility of the sonic wall. The speed of sound in the 75-degree temperature of the lake shore was about 775 miles per hour at the time of the test runs in the Imperial Valley.

The rules under which the flight was made specified that the plane must not fly higher than 1,640 feet. Actually, Capt. Nash made the four passes at not more than 100 feet off the sun-swept earth of the eastern shore of the inland sea. He was monitored by four T28 training planes and timed with high speed movie cameras and a special chronograph system.

"I experienced some mild shock waves," the pilot related. "They were like streaks of lightning around the canopy during the runs. This is normal, however, at high speed."

14 Top Czech Leaders Face Commie Purge

VIENNA, Austria, Nov. 20 — Fourteen former top leaders of the Czechoslovak Communist government were accused of treason and espionage Thursday in the greatest Red trial since the famous Moscow trials of 1936.

Among those accused were Vlado Clementis, former Red Czech foreign minister, and Rudolf Slansky, once-trusted Moscow man and former secretary general of the Czech Communist Party.

Radio Prague said all 14 were accused of "Trotzkism, Titoism, and Zionism," and were all "Bourgeois Nationalist traitors and enemies of the Czechoslovak people and of Socialism."

The radio said it would broadcast daily reports of the court proceedings. There have been no Western news correspondents in Czechoslovakia since the conviction last year of Associated Press Correspondent William N. Oatis on "spy" charges. His trial was denounced throughout the non-Communist world.

Fayette County May Act In Protesting Conservancy Levy

Steps were taken at a meeting held here Wednesday to take some action toward stopping the placing on Fayette County's tax duplicate a rate of three tenths of a mill for the Sandusky-Scioto Conservancy District.

What course the action will take here probably will be determined by some investigation now being carried on by one or two individuals assigned to do this.

At the meeting there were prominent representatives of farm organizations in the county, city officials, county officials and a few other citizens. Those present were unanimous in their attitude that some strong protest action should be started.

The main question raised in the discussion was "What is the approximate amount of $16,000 or more, sought from this county to be used for?" The money would come from Fayette County taxes, both personal and real estate.

There were some attorneys present who were asked to explain the situation and the result of the information furnished indicated that a fight against the proposed levy is underway in a number of the 17 counties in the district.

At the time the first levy was made some time ago, for three tenths of a mill, it was stated that no other such levy would be made according to a report at this meeting. This second order for a similar amount, which it is asserted is to be used entirely for legal expenses and promotion purposes, has aroused a build-up of opposition in many places throughout the 17 county district.

According to information brought out, the district was created by legislation some years ago when the federal government was seeking public work projects with the help of states, to provide more employment for men. Whether new legislation regarding the project will be attempted is as yet problematical. Meantime there is strong possibility of court action in the district to stop further action on the project.

It is said that the district was set up on a drainage area plan and that certain counties in the dis-

Capehart Predicts Controls Program To Get OK By GOP

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 — Sen. Homer Capehart (R-Ind.) says he is certain the new Republican Congress will approve some form of price, wage and rent controls regardless of whether President-elect Eisenhower favors them.

Capehart, scheduled to become chairman of the Senate Banking Committee, which handles controls legislation, brought this out Wednesday shortly after a hearing at which Price Stabilizer Tighe Woods urged that controls be extended.

The law authorizing controls will expire April 30 unless extended, and there has been talk in Congress of refusing to extend it. Capehart, however, said he was certain his committee would approve and Congress would pass some form of standby controls in the next session, whatever it decides about the present curbs.

Asked if he thought Eisenhower would want such standby authority, the Indiana senator said he did not know but that "we've got the votes for it whether he does or not. We can't afford to be without standby controls as long as the Korean war is on. I think it might be a good idea to have them in any case."

WOODS, MEANWHILE, is preparing to knock retail price ceilings off virtually all items of clothing, except possibly children's and infants' wear, by Dec. 1.

He announced his decision to senators after he had ordered the suspension of price controls on women's street and dress millinery and on bottled soft drinks.

Woods told the Senate House Defense Production Committee, before which he appeared as a witness, that he is determined to order a rollback of the retail price of beef if this is legally possible.

But he said he has encountered thorny problems in investigating what he termed a "lopsided gap" between the price farmers get for live cattle and the price the housewives pay for beef.

Capehart told Woods he wants the meet problem solved speedily because he said the farmer is being hurt by low cattle prices while consumers are getting small relief from high prices.

Capehart announced later that one of his first acts after taking command of the Banking Committee on Jan. 3 will be to call price control officials to report on the beef price situation.

"They've missed fire in controlling meat prices or you wouldn't have that situation," Capehart said.

WOODS, IN more than three hours of testimony before the committee which keeps an eye on inflation control and defense production problems, strongly urged Congress not to abandon price stabilization.

The committee listened intently to his estimate that (1) some 200 price-controlled items consumed in industry would undergo "immediate" price rises if controls are ended, and (2) that a bulge of only 3 per cent in their price levels "would burden the budget with almost two billion dollars" additional cost of the defense program. He predicted another result would be rounds of wage increases and price increases in items which have never been controlled.

Auto Parts Theft Ring Is Smashed

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 — The first break in an alleged big-scale stealing of auto parts from the Willys Overland Company has been disclosed by the FBI.

G-men, who announced the arrest of three men in Baltimore, New York and Washington Wednesday, said they had recovered $100,000 worth of new Jeep parts tucked away in warehouses at Detroit and Baltimore. They said the three men were members of a huge ring accused of stealing such items as axles, generators, and fuel pumps from the Toledo firm.

OPS Checks Cafe Price Increases

CLEVELAND, Nov. 20 — The office of Price Stabilization said Thursday it is investigating reports of sudden price increases in the vicinity of Waverly, site of the new atomic plant.

Sidney A. Hesse, OPS regional director, said five investigators have been checking prices for the last two weeks in an area centered in Pike, Ross and Scioto counties and extending to East Liverpool and Steubenville, Marion, Lancaster and Newark.

GM President Is Selected for Defense Post

Governor Of Oregon
Is To Be New Head Of Interior Department

NEW YORK, Nov. 20 — President-elect Dwight Eisenhower announced Thursday he has chosen John Foster Dulles as his secretary of state; Charles E. Wilson, president of General Motors, secretary of defense, and Gov. Douglas McKay of Oregon secretary of the interior.

Eisenhower's press secretary, James C. Hagerty, gave the news to the press while the general was lunching with Anthony Eden, British foreign secretary, at Eisenhower's Hotel Commodore headquarters.

Dulles, 64, held the title of ambassador when he served as architect of the Japanese peace treaty under Secretary of State Dean Acheson. Three Democratic Presidents—Wilson, Roosevelt and Truman—gave him active roles in helping to formulate and carry out United States policies.

Dulles carved a foreign policy plank at the Republican national convention last July which satisfied both leading contenders for the presidential nomination—Eisenhower and Sen. Robert A. Taft.

EISENHOWER'S announcement of the appointment followed a long conference with Dulles at the general's headquarters Thursday.

The President-elect conferred with Wilson here Wednesday night. Dulles, following his conference with Eisenhower, declined to confirm or deny Eisenhower had offered him the top cabinet post.

The three appointments were the first to be announced by Eisenhower for the Republican administration that will take office Jan. 20.

Eisenhower discussed foreign problems at length Wednesday getting two reports on Korea.

He was quoted by Sen. Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin, member of the United States delegation to the United Nations, as standing firmly behind the delegation's position on the pivotal question of compulsory return of war prisoners in Korea. The senator said:

"He is completely dedicated to the principles of the UN, and re-emphasized his agreement with the principle of no forcible repatriation of Communist prisoners."

Communist negotiators in Korea have insisted that all prisoners, regardless of their personal desires, must be returned either to China or North Korea. The truce talks at Panmunjom stalled, finally, over this point.

THE MEETING with Eden is considered unusually important since their conversation could touch on both Europe and the Far East.

Some European leaders have expressed anxiety over reports the United States may expand the war in the Orient, bombing Chinese territory, and possibly sanctioning a Chinese Nationalist assault on the mainland of Red China.

With regard to Western Europe, some American sentiment holds that direct financial aid should be discontinued. Proponents of this belief argue that military aid alone would be more effective and less costly. At the same time, there is sentiment for shifting U.S. emphasis to the Far East.

Boosters Club Plans Salute

Last Game Movie Shown At Meeting

Plans for the "Salute the Champions" meeting to be held Monday night at the high school auditorium here in honor of the unbeaten Lion football squad of WHS were given another going over at the Wednesday night meeting of the Boosters Club at the Cherry Hotel.

The discussion of the appreciation meeting was one of the highlights of the business session but it had to share interest of the capacity turnout with the motion pictures of the last game of the season between the Lions and Circleville's Tigers. The Lions won that game, 55 to 7, to clinch the title and wind up their season without a defeat.

Since the coaching staff, which usually shows the pictures to the Boosters and points out the significance of the play, was at the SCO League meeting at the high school here, five players on the squad were there in their stead.

Don Foster, spunky little line-backer and guard, operated the projector and kept the Boosters in an hilarious mood with his narration and running comments on the game. Team mates with the narrator were Wayne Van Meter, Carl Smith, Charles Holbrook and Dave Smith.

WITH THE FOOTBALL season drawing to a close here, the Boosters began to turn their attention to the coming basketball season.

Paul Pennington, the club president, pointed out that the first game would be played with New Holland's Bulldogs next Tuesday night and urged that the Boosters get behind the WHS cagers with the same enthusiasm they backed the Lion gridgers.

Tickets for the "Salute the Champions" meeting in the high school auditorium are "going pretty fast," Pennington told the gathering. He reminded them that tickets were available at the Downtown Drug Store and King-Kas. Furniture Store. Pennington emphasized again that the meeting is "open to everyone, men and women and boys and girls." Tickets are $1 each.

The meeting in the high school is to follow a dinner at Grace Church for the members of the squad and a few of the out-of-town guests.

Dr. Jimmy Hull, former Greenfield and Ohio State University basketball star, is to be the master of ceremonies and Lou (The Toe) Groza, the place kicking specialist of the Cleveland Browns is to be the principal speaker.

Final Tributes Paid To David Sollars

A short committal service was held at the family lot in the Greenfield Cemetery Wednesday afternoon for Charles David Sollars, who died suddenly Sunday evening at his home in Dayton.

Previously funeral services had been held at St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Oakwood, a Dayton suburb.

Rev. William Perkins, the pastor of the church, conducted the ritual in Oakwood and assisted Rev. Eugene Frazer, pastor of the Good Hope Methodist Church, at the committal services in Greenfield.

Rev. Perkins read the Scripture and offered prayer and Rev. Frazer read the hymn, "Lead Kindly Light" and offered prayer.

Many friends of the Sollars' came from Dayton for the committal services. Others from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Harmon of Albany, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Quick, Mr. and Mrs. Morton Lambert of Muncie, Ind.; David Lambert of South Bend, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. John Hellebush, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cockerill, Robert Barnett and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Purcell of Cincinnati; Mr. and Mrs. Watson Pultz of College Corner, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Kerr, Joseph Foster, Mrs. Harley Foster of Connersville, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Marcum, Sam Orr and Paul Marcum of Middletown; Vince Morrissey of Columbus; Richard Poole of Chicago, William Datz of Pittsburgh and Robert McGahey of Lexington, Ky.

Palbearers for the interment were Lloyd O'Hara, John Wenger, Joseph L. Marcum, Richard Cockerill, William Junk and Julian de Bruyn Kops.

The honorary palbearers were Julian Lange, Thomas Wasmuth,

Jack Riley, Henry Purcell and H. B. Schantz.

Sedalia Presbyterian Church To Be Replaced with New One

The old Midway Presbyterian Church at Sedalia, where the people of the village and community had gone to worship for nearly 100 years, is no more.

It has been torn down to make way for a new church; the contract for its construction has been let and brick have been delivered.

The quaint old white frame church with its belfry is to be replaced with one of red brick of colonial design with a 40-foot steeple. It also is to include some memorial frames, too.

The new church, on the same site where the old one stood, is to be slightly larger and it has been planned to meet the more modern needs.

The old church would accommodate congregations of around 150; the sanctuary (main auditorium) of the new church will seat about 110, but the assembly room which can be combined with it will take care of about 90 more.

There are to be seven classrooms in the new church and it also will have a kitchen with all the modern facilities for the convenience and use of young and old.

The congregation, within itself, has raised $30,000. The completed church, it has been figured, will cost about $40,000.

For the people of Sedalia and the surrounding community, the joy of accomplishment now rises on the horizon as the new church, built in the days of the square nail and wooden peg, molds itself into their lives.

To help swell the building fund, the men of the church congregation are going to put on what they described as a "Sample Fair" Saturday night. It is to be held in the Sedalia school auditorium from 7 P. M. until midnight.

A huge pile of samples sent in by manufacturers is to be distributed free.

There will be an old fashioned country store with baked goods and handwork articles for sale.

There is to be a cake walk and at 9 P. M. the 50-50 dance is to get underway.

Refreshments are to be served all evening.

Rev. William Peterson is pastor of the church. The elders are George Dean, Robert Haigler, Reynold Slaughter, Jr., Delbert Dorn and Forrest Rihl and the trustees are Lewis Counts, Reynold Slaughter, Sr., George Ropp, Robert McCormack and Kenneth Dorn.

START FOUNDATIONS

NEWARK — Work of pouring foundations for two huge presses, one of 35,000 tons and the other 25,000 tons, for the Air Force program is underway here.

THIS IS THE ONLY picture of the old Midway Presbyterian Church at Sedalia that could be located in the village after it had been torn down to make way for a new one of red brick.

It will take care of about 90 more.

GM President

Dulles has served for years as an adviser on foreign policy. He bore the brunt of the work of formulating the treaty with Japan, negotiating with other nations on disputed points, and finally getting it signed.

Dulles is reported to have support both from Sen. Robert Taft (R-Ohio) and from Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York for the post of secretary of state.

Taft told reporters Wednesday, after seeing Eisenhower, that he suggested "two or three names" for the cabinet, but he would not say who they were. He added that he believes Eisenhower has come to no decisions on any final selections for his cabinet.

Taft was reported Thursday to be urging Eisenhower to appoint an industrialist as secretary of defense.

THE OHIO senator was said to have submitted the names of three businessmen for the post, without indicating any preference among them. They are:

Edward L. Ryerson, 65, of Chicago, director of the Inland Steel Corp., and chairman of the board of Joseph T. Ryerson and Son.

B. E. Hutchinson, 64, of Detroit, vice president of the Chrysler Corp., and chairman of its finance committee.

Charles McElroy White, 61, of Cleveland, president of the Republic Steel Corp.

Clovernook Is Described By Local Woman

By MISS McCAFFERTY

Miss Cordelia McCafferty, a retired city school teacher, has just returned from a visit of a few days at "Clovernook," the eight-room home of the famous Cary sisters and also the Methodist Home for the Aged near College Hill, a Cincinnati suburb.

Miss McCafferty has written a short article giving the background of this well-known home. It follows: Alice Cary was born 1820 and died in 1871. Phoebe was born in 1824 and died in 1871. They both wrote many beautiful poems, lyrics, ballads—both verse and prose.

The Carys were so well known that children of all classes roamed over the beautiful farm with its trees, shrubbery, brooks and hills, and felt at home.

After the father, with his big family, re-married, the Cary sisters had much to contend with in their young life. An unsympathetic stepmother who didn't believe in wasting time trying to write "silly verses." She would send them early to bed, but they would steal out and slip up to the attic to write in the twilight or the light of the moon, as they had no candle.

They would put their verses in the secret cupboard for their father to get when he came downstairs. Forty years ago I visited "Clovernook" in all its beauty. But what a change since then! Part of the farm was sold and now buildings are all over the place. Now it is mostly plowed up and all kinds of vegetables are raised. A large barn, dining room, gift shop, cogs, hogs, chickens, implement shop. They accept any gift and if there is anything that can't be used, they give it to the Salvation Army or any worthy person. No tips are accepted.

There are three matrons. The head matron makes herself responsible for everything that she is expected to manage. There are two men who are responsible for all other employees.

When the Cary sisters went to New York to carry on their work, they had to place a mortgage on their home. They were not able to keep up taxes or interest. When these sisters passed away so close together, Clovernook Farm had to be sold.

A very wealthy friend who knew the true worth of the Carys, bought all of "Clovernook" and made it a shrine for worthy persons whether rich or poor. At present it is a home for blind women. There are 30 there now. The home can accommodate 40. There is only one real old woman, who is 86 years of age and totally blind. The others are around 30 years of age and help with the work.

By 1950, the Cary sisters had a scrap-book of beautiful selections. The well-known hymn "Near er Home" was written by Phoebe.

Elizabeth Whittier, the most brilliant sister, likes to tell of her mother going to the door about 1850 and there stood two plump, lively maidens who inquired of her son. She replied, "He has gone to Boston and may not get back to night." They replied that they would come in and wait for him, that they were authors from Ohio. When the poet came in they greeted him, and stayed as long as they wished and filled the house with fun.

It was my pleasure to visit Whittier's birth place with its low ceilings, broad board floors, dutch oven and simple arrangements of antique furniture.

Many know where the Methodist Home for the aged is located. I visited there with my life-long friend Miss Mary N. Davis. There's a splendid road from there to College Hill. Clovernook is just a mile from there.

which included Japan, China, Korea, Malaya and the Philippine Islands.

Mrs. Avann served as a representative of the Woman's Foreign Missionary in China and Korea in 1922 and 1923, and in 1930 she went to Korea as a delegate to unite the southern and northern churches, and later made a trip around the world. It was on these trips she was able to collect these valuable costumes.

Mrs. Avann commented on each costume worn and also the customs of the different countries.

The meeting closed with the repeating of the circle motto, "We serve by sharing our blessings with others," and a social hour followed, during which the hostesses served light refreshments.

Guests included were Mrs. C. L. Lewellen, Mrs. Clinton Swengel and Mrs. Frank Thornton.

The December meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Herbert Fite and will feature a Christmas party and gift exchange.

Truman's Proposed World Tour Recalls Jaunt of General Grant

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
WASHINGTON—Reports that President Truman may travel abroad after he leaves the White House bring back recollections of the sensational world jaunt taken by a predecessor, Ulysses S. Grant.

Ex-President Grant's trip around the globe in 1877, 1878 and 1879 could well be described as one of the wonders of the world during the time he spent flitting from one country to another.

Long accounts of his adventures were cabled home and the American public read with avid interest of the acclaim with which the Civil War hero and two-term President was received.

He was greeted like royalty; adulation was heaped upon him wherever he went; he dined with Queen Victoria, the khedive of Egypt, and the sultan of the Ottoman Empire; hobnobbed with Germany's Bismarck, England's Disraeli, and the viceroy of China; and had lengthy discussions with King Chulalongkorn of Siam and the mikado (emperor) of Japan.

In Switzerland, he climbed the glaciers; in China, he ate bird's nest soup; in India, he watched the maharajah's nautch girls dance; in Turkey, he received four Arabian horses from Sultan Abdul Hamid, and in Egypt, he sailed the Nile with the khedive.

General Grant's adventures have been chronicled in "Around the World With Grant," a two-volume account of the former President's peregrinations written by John Russell Young, New York Herald correspondent, who covered his trip. Mr. Truman may already have sampled some of its passages.

GENERAL GRANT left the White House on March 15, 1877, with a desire to get away from politics and the cares of statesmen and see the world. Two months later, on May 17, he sailed from Philadelphia on the steamer "Indiana," after an uproarious send-off, with his wife and son, Jesse, 19.

American consulates abroad were at once directed to give the ex-President every possible consideration and the Navy placed at his disposal a warship for short water hops.

Arriving in England, General Grant received a tremendous welcome from the populace. At New castle, he made a short speech to 80,000 factory workers who left their jobs to see the famous American general. Still larger receptions followed at Sheffield, Birmingham and Manchester.

Queen Victoria invited General Grant to dinner at Windsor, but her invitation did not include Jesse. This made the general angry and an invitation was extended to attend the dinner with his parents.

After England, General Grant went to Belgium and Switzerland and then to Paris. At Marseilles he sailed aboard the "USS Vandalia" for Naples, Sicily, Egypt and Palestine. Then he returned to Italy and had an audience with the Pope.

After that he paid France a second visit, journeyed to Holland, and hobnobbed with Bismarck in Berlin. The inexhaustible ex-President then visited Copenhagen, Norway, Sweden and Russia, where he became quite friendly with the czar.

From the land of the czars he traveled to Vienna, Spain and Portugal, to Ireland and back again to England.

Having conquered all of Europe, he departed with his entourage for the Orient. His two most enjoyable stays were in China and Japan.

In China, Viceroy Li Hung Chang took the American hero to his bosom. He gave him a dinner which lasted eight hours and included 70 courses. Grant said upon his return to the United States that the Chinese viceroy was one of four great men he met on his tour.

The others he named were Disraeli, the British prime minister; Bismarck, the "Iron Chancellor" of Germany; and Leon Gambetta, the French statesman.

General Grant ended his trip in Japan, where he spent several pleasant months discussing philosophy with the mikado and enjoying the exotic scenery and Japanese life.

DURING HIS tour, which lasted two years and four months, he made 300 speeches, quite a feat in itself for a man who loathed public speaking. He left behind himself also many pearls of wisdom, such as the remark that "Venice would be a fine place if it were drained."

The grand tour ended with his return to San Francisco, Sept. 21, 1879, where, refreshed from the vicissitudes of politics, he turned his attention to an unsuccessful campaign for a third term.

Thirty years later, in 1910, another President, upon retiring from office, also made a famous trip abroad. He was Theodore Roosevelt. Six weeks after leaving the White House, Mr. Roosevelt left on a trip to Africa, during which he hunted big game.

After 10 months in the wilds of Africa, Mr. Roosevelt made a triumphal march through Europe, winning both acclaim and criticism, the latter for some of his outspoken remarks.

Like Grant, T. R. returned to the United States, in June, 1910, to find himself again immersed in politics and made an unsuccessful bid again for the presidency. In 1913, he visited South America and made a hazardous trip into the wilds of Brazil.

Sorority Dinner Ends Unpleasantly
CINCINNATI, Nov. 20.—(AP)—A gay college sorority dinner ended suddenly and unpleasantly Tuesday night after at least 11 of the approximately 50 girls became ill, apparently due to food poisoning.

Three of the University of Cincinnati girls were hospitalized. At least eight others were treated at the Theta Phi Alpha house by a doctor and then released. The dinner included ham, sweet potatoes and eclairs. Samples of the food are to be turned over to the city health department for analysis.

Sculptor To Take Joe Out Of Valdes
MEXICO CITY, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Sculptor Ignacio Asunsolo has told the Mexican Senate he will alter his statue of President Miguel Aleman Valdes to eliminate any similarity it might have to Soviet Prime Minister Stalin.

The statue was ordered by the Senate for an honored place on the University of Mexico campus. Some senators complained it looked too much like the Russian dictator. Asunsolo visited the Senate, explained how he would alter it.

21 Ohio Heifers Sail For Europe
COLUMBUS, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Twenty-one Ohio Jersey cows sailed for West Germany Tuesday. They will be given to refugees from East Prussia at the little settlement of Ahrbrueck.

The registered heifers are the

The project, originated in 1944, aims to provide both a source of income for displaced families and a supply of fresh milk for their children. They came from nine breeders in Guernsey and Muskingum Counties.

Ohio Author Said 'Pantie Bandit'
COLUMBUS, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Vernon Scott Gilmore, 33, Columbus, author of the picture story, "This Is Ohio Stadium," was indicted Tuesday by the Franklin County grand jury for burglary.

He was arrested after a 27-year-old girl found him in her apartment. Police call Gilmore "the pantie bandit," say he has stolen hundreds of women's undergarments.

Social Security For 500 Here
Insurance Program Is Given Emphasis

Of the 500 persons estimated to be receiving monthly social security payments in Fayette County, now, about 250, or 50 percent, are wives, widows, children or parents of insured wage earners or self-employed people.

Gilbert Barth, of the Columbus social security office, cited these figures as evidence of the value of the family insurance protection through the federal old-age and survivors insurance program.

"A surprisingly large number of people still think of social security only as a retirement system," Barth said. He pointed out that regular monthly payments to the widows and children of deceased workers are often the means of enabling the survivors to remain together as a family unit.

insurance protection, Barth mentioned a not unusual case of a family here now receiving monthly survivor's benefits. The wage earner died in July, leaving a widow and twin 5-year-old sons. Based on his average monthly wage of $270 since 1950, the widow and children became entitled to $150 a month starting with July. Under recent changes in the law, this amount was increased to $161 a month in September.

Payments will be made until the twins reach 18 years of age. The total sum of $24,450 will have been paid by the family by that time. If the widow has not re-married by the time she reaches age 65, she will then be eligible to furnish her monthly payments of $60.40 for the rest of her life.

Barth invited persons desiring information about retirement or survivor's benefits to get in touch with him at Washington Court House at the Ohio State Employment Service any Wednesday afternoon.

Fabulous Wealth Locked Up in Sea

Scientists Working On Way To Get It Out

By DAVID A. HELLER
WASHINGTON — If somebody told you where you could find $93 million in gold and $8½ million's worth of silver absolutely free for the taking, you might: (a) regard your informant as a fool, or (b) start running like mad to where you were told to look.

As a service to its readers, Central Press can tell you positively and absolutely where the $100-odd million worth of precious metals are. What's more, all you have to do is cart it away.

Like most pie in the sky schemes, however, there's a catch.

The fantastic fortune is the amount of gold and silver that can be found in every cubic mile of sea water in all the oceans of the world. The Smithsonian Institution once estimated that there is $45 trillion's worth of gold alone in the sea—enough to make every man, woman and child on earth a millionaire at current prices.

Why don't we recover the gold from the sea? Simple. It costs more to recover it than it's worth.

HOWEVER, someday soon, as scientific and engineering knowledge increase, man may be mining gold from the sea as he now mines it from the earth. Mining the sea has already become a billion-dollar industry and all of our lives are richer for it.

The oceans of the world contain a fantastic store of mineral wealth—50 quadrillion tons. This incredible store of minerals is dissolved in the water in minute particles. Engineers are now learning ways of tapping this wealth, and with the population of the world increasing by ever-increasing leaps and bounds, mankind may look to the seas as the main source of some minerals.

Take the case of bromine, for instance.

Chances are, you've never heard of it, but it plays an important part in your life. Without it, there would be no high-test gasoline for our cars. Bromine is also used in the making of headache powders, fire extinguishers, photography, dyes, and for hundreds of other purposes.

The ocean has a world-wide monopoly on bromine—literally. More than 99 percent of the supply has filtered into the seas of the world from rainwater and other sources.

When anti-knock gasoline was developed, fuel scientists cried for bromine. However, their needs for it exceeded the world supply by more than 10 times. There was only one place to get it, from the sea. Thus, less than two decades ago, was born the first important recovery of the sea's treasures.

IN 1933, A MAJOR chemical company established the first plant to extract bromine directly from the sea. Kure Beach, N. C., was the first important center for this work. Now Freeport, Tex., is the bromine capital of the world. By a complicated process, the minute percentage of bromine is removed as a gas from the huge amount of sea water. World War II increased the need for aviation gasoline (and bromine) many times and new methods of mining the sea played a key role in helping America and her Allies defeat the Axis.

The "wonder metal," magnesium is another treasure we are recovering from the ocean. Magnesium is the lightest commercial structural metal and has made possible thousands of new products. Only two-thirds as heavy as aluminum, it gives steel great strength when alloyed with it. Magnesium is used in airplanes, truck bodies, electrical equipment and a wide range of other products.

Today, nearly 100 percent of America's virgin magnesium and 80 percent of our nation's bromine come directly from the sea forerunners of a host of important minerals that will one day come from that source.

Iodine is another mineral which promises some day to come from the sea in vast quantities. Necessary to the maintenance of life, iodine was once obtained only from the ashes of burned seaweed. While it has not yet been directly mined from the sea, the next best thing has happened. It has been produced on a huge scale from heavily-concentrated brines found in California's oil country. The price of iodine dropped almost to a fourth of its original price within a few years after this method of mining it was discovered.

Ever since the first cave man learned that evaporated sea water contained life-giving salt, men have sought to tap the wealth of the oceans. With scientific knowledge growing apace, the day may not be far off when it will be one of our most important sources of raw materials.

Perhaps some day soon we will be mining that $100 million's worth of gold and silver which is contained in every cubic mile of sea water.

Canadian Example

By GEORGE PECK
(Editor's Note: George Peck is Chairman of the Board of the National Labor-Management Foundation and Executive Editor of its official publication, PARTNERS.)

The banking system of the Dominion of Canada differs greatly from that of the United States in one respect. Canadian laws permit, in fact, encourage branch banking. The result is that most of the banking business in Canada is handled by ten large chartered banks, each with several hundred branches located across the Dominion.

But though the banking systems of the two countries may differ, they have one thing very much in common. Both are under fire by socialist propagandists who demand that the banks be nationalized. In Canada, they would put the Canadian government into the banking business and are making much capital out of the fact that the mother country, England has nationalized her banks.

A few years ago, Canada's ten chartered banks replied to the "crackpots" by making a joint announcement in publications throughout the Dominion. A part of this declaration so aptly describes the advantage to the general public of private banking over that of government, that it is well worth repeating again and again. It reads:

"Ten competing chartered banks are the very opposite of a State Monopoly such a would come about if all the banks were rolled into one by nationalization. Under State Monopoly, if you failed to get accommodation at one bank, you could not go to any of the nine others to seek it. YOU CAN TODAY."

One of the Canadian banks, the Royal Bank of Canada, on its own behalf, also inserted an announcement in Canadian magazines and newspapers, carrying a message which should be read and heeded by every American. So I pass it along:

"Every business started as an idea in the mind of some individual. Every shop, every farm, every factory, every worthwhile enterprise from banks to movie theaters, came into being because some individual had faith in an idea and the courage to back it. Every Canadian has this right—the right to build his future in his own way—to go into business for himself if he chooses—and to reap the reward of his enterprise. So it has always been. That is the very essence of our free way of life, the solid foundation of our greatness as a nation."

In this same announcement, the Royal Bank of Canada gave just about as good an answer to the question, "What in Private Enterprise?" as I have ever read or heard. It defined Private Enterprise as follows:

"It is the natural desire to make your own way, as far as your ability will take you; an instinct that has brought to this continent the highest standard of life enjoyed by any people on earth. It is the spirit of democracy on the march."

Naturally, these Canadian banks in their own self-interest, have steadfastly combated any and all individuals or groups who have sought to destroy them by relegate private banking to the scrapheap and having government take over the banking business. But, at the same time, they have rendered a further service to all Canadian people by pointing out in simple easily-understood language, the advantages enjoyed by all under Private Enterprise and the drawbacks inherent in government ownership.

Were the Canadian government to take over the banks, it would only be a question of time until it took over businesses of all kinds, both large and small. Right here is a lesson that workers in Canada and in every other country should learn—the sad fate that befalls labor unions when there is only one boss—the State. All they have to do is to contemplate the unhappy experiences of workers in many European countries where one State Boss has replaced the many employer bosses. The sad plight of labor in England is the most recent of these.

What applies to Canada, to England and other countries, is equally true here in the United States. During war emergencies we were given a close-up picture of the futility and ineptness of government in business. True, we grumbled at the bunglings of the bureaucrats, but accepted their invasion into our privacy and freedom as just another of the inevitable horrors of war.

Now, we have a "Police Action" in Korea and we are faced with the constant threat of another world-wide war. These emergencies provide the bureaucrats with a pretext to keep bureaucratizing, and the socialists to scream for nationalization of our basic industries and businesses.

Our friends above the Great Lakes, by their determination to

Amos 'N' Andy Part of Radio

Comedy Program Now In 25th Year

CHICAGO — When Guglielmo Marconi first invented the wireless, according to an industry joke the first thing he tuned in was the "Amos 'n' Andy" program.

Actually, show business historians have never decided whether Marconi's invention, which was responsible for radio, made its success out of "Amos 'n' Andy" or visa versa. But in spite of the fact that they are not scientists, Freeman Gosden, who plays "Amos", and Charles Correll, who plays "Andy" to the world, have been pioneers in radio and have helped to launch many important new steps in broadcasting.

Virtually synonymous with all that stands for radio and its progress from the days of the cat-whisker and crystal set to the precision construction of our modern receivers, the program this season began its 25th year on the air. A further milestone: it has just chalked up its 10,000th broadcast.

This stupendous figure was arrived at by the two comedians after they and their secretary-of-20 years, Louise Summa, had pored over old files and carefully listed each broadcast and rebroadcast, every interview on a local radio station, special charity and relief drive performances and the overseas broadcasts that they made for the Army.

BETWEEN broadcast No. 1 on March 19, 1928, when Freeman Gosden and Charles Correll stepped up to a microphone at WMAQ, Chicago, and read a script marked "Amos and Andy, Episode No. 1," and broadcast No. 10,000 mankind keep their economy free, have shown us a splendid example. They continue to pursue a course that we in the United States can very well applaud and travel with them has learned to outspeed sound and to split the atom. Nations have been erased behind the Iron Curtain. However, in these 25 years, "Amos has remained his philosophic self, "Andy" still promotes big money and the show goes on, one of the hit comedies of the air.

The happy working arrangement of Gosden and Correll goes back to the autumn of 1920 when they made their first broadcast on a little experimental station in New Orleans, singing "Whispering" into a microphone shaped like a megaphone. Whether any one heard them is still a moot question.

Six years later, on Jan. 12, 1926, Gosden and Correll launched a comedy program called "Sam 'n' Henry" on WGN, Chicago. "Sam 'n' Henry" was on WGN for two years, and during that time the two learned a great deal about dramatic and writing techniques.

AFTER 550 broadcasts, their first program under the name of "Amos 'n' Andy" went out over WMAG in Chicago on March 19, 1928. The two characters were already bysoming household bywords. Yet Gosden and Correll had such misgivings about their future that they refused to sign an office lease until they had been on the air under the new title for three months.

As "Amos 'n' Andy," they chalked up many radio "firsts" in order to bring their program to listeners beyond the service radius of their Chicago station, the team made pioneer electrical transcriptions, recorded in advance and released to other stations for broadcast at the same time that the program was broadcast "live" from Chicago.

In 1928 they achieved the first transcription "Network," ranging from the Pacific coast, to Pittsburgh. A year later, beginning Aug. 19, 1929, the program went coast to coast as a "live" show six nights a week, the first nightly continuity broadcast. Here they pioneered again by going on the air twice each night—the first program to do a late broadcast beamed to the west coast.

The years which have passed

Lack of Sight Affects Taste

Examples Are Given To Prove Point

Users of tobacco know that there is almost no satisfaction in smoking in complete darkness. Sight and even tradition have much to do with taste. Blindfolded samplers of wine often are unable to distinguish one vintage from another, says a news report.

Now, at Geneva, Switzerland, in a elaborate international test, experts were unable to tell one unidentified sardine from another.

The sardine test originated in a campaign of the Norwegian government to persuade the West German government Norwegian sardines should not be subject to heavier import duties than sardines originating in the warmer waters of Portugal and France. Norwegian aquavit, or of the most potent of beverages, was provided to help wash down the sardines.

Thirteen unidentified kinds of sardines were offered to samplers, who couldn't tell one from another. The fish from warm southern waters couldn't be distinguished from their kin bred in chill northern marine surroundings. The influence of labeling is clear. It goes for fish, wine, tobacco and a host of other products.

The sardine, whatever its origin, remains one of the succulent items of diet. It needs no cooking; it can be used as an hors d'oeuvre or on toast as a full meal. Such versatility is offered by few foods. If all sardines taste alike, what of it?

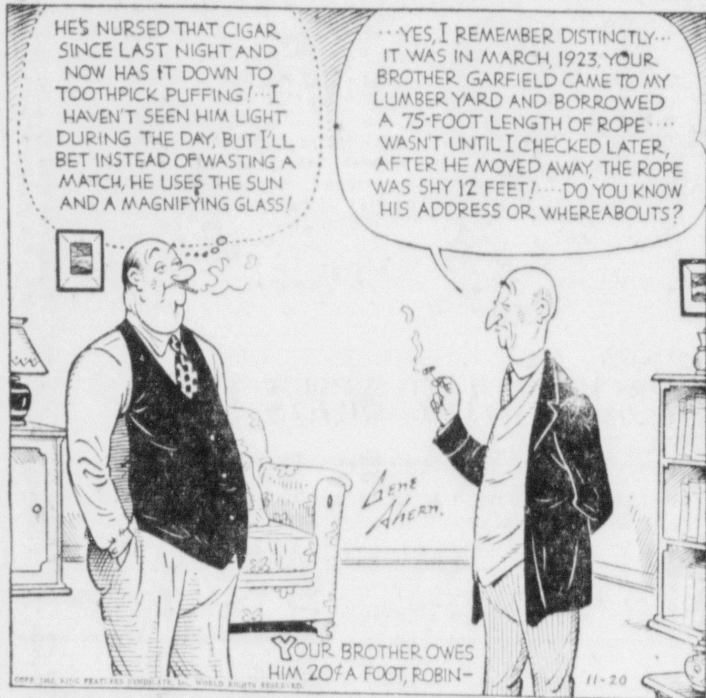

since then have not loosened their grip on America's affections. In 1943, the program switched format and became the weekly half-hour that they now use. In June, 1951, a television series was added to the schedule although the roles are not played by Gosden and Correll.

If "Amos 'n' Andy" have pioneered through the years in radio, they have also left their mark on the American language. Such phrases as "I beg to disagree," "Ain't that sumpin'?" "Check and double check," and "I see regusted," will live in our American vernacular.

International Volunteer Force Is Seen Invading Korea Should Chinese Reds Be Pushed Back

By F. K. WU
HONG KONG—Some 100,000 "international volunteers" drawn from Soviet—Russia and the satellite countries and lurking in Manchuria will go into action in Korea if and when the "Chinese People Volunteers" are driven northward by United Nations Troops. This arrangement was agreed upon in Moscow between Premier Josef Stalin and Foreign Minister Chou En-lai of the Peiping regime and ranking members of the Kremlin in early September.

This agreement was reached, according to a Peiping report, after Chou En-lai had complained about the heavy Chinese losses in men and equipment while fighting the American and other UN forces in Korea for 23 months. Premier Josef Stalin then promised to move in his "international brigades" which have been deployed in Siberia and Manchuria since the summer of this year.

At the same time the "Chinese People Volunteers" have been well trained and equipped during the prolonged armistice negotiations dragging through 16 months, but to assure victory Moscow claimed Peiping by undertaking to move up the European puppet units as reinforcements in the event of a UN offensive. The "international volunteers" are reported to be seasoned units equipped with the latest weapons, although their morale is not high.

IN ANY event, the Peiping report added that Soviet Russia will back up Communist China in the present war in Korea in order to achieve Moscow-Peiping objectives against the western democracies in general and the United States in particular. At the same time, the Peiping regime is ordered to gear up its war efforts "in preparation for further liberation of countries in Southeast Asia."

One of these objectives is the Chinese military aid to the Communist-led Vietminh insurgents in French Indo-China as ordered by Moscow. The amount of military supplies has stepped up to about 1,500 tons to 2,000 tons a month, thereby enabling the Vietminh troops to start an offensive since mid-October. About 50,000 to 80,000 Chinese Communist troops are scattered in northern Indo-China but will not go into action until the autumn offensive has gained sufficient ground or when the French Union troops and their Vietminh allies launch a counter-offensive.

THE WAR IN Korea and the steady stream of supplies to the Vietminh forces are being borne out by the vast sums extorted from the Chinese people during the first seven months of the year in the name of anti-corruption drive which yielded an equivalent of about US $2 billion. A local banking source estimated that an equivalent of about US $90 million have been remitted to Hong Kong for the purchase of various goods and other disbursements.

To foot at least a part of the bill for the world liberation movement as announced recently in Moscow by Stalin, Peiping is mapping out fresh taxation schemes. Students of Chinese public finance here said that the Chinese sponge is not squeezed quite dry by the anti-corruption extortion racket from January to July this year and that it is possible to force out a few more drops from the unwilling and greatly impoverished people.

CONTINUOUS exploitation of the people in the name of defending the country against the "American aggressors" at China's gateway, Korea, has resulted in waves of resentment against the Peiping regime, which is, however, determined to ride roughshod in the merry game to get-rich-quick. It is felt here that continuous drawing of

Woman Driver's Definition Eyed

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo., Nov. 20.—It took a woman driver to finally decide the difference between a "dead stop" and an ordinary "stop"—a question that has bothered folks here for two weeks.

The problem arose when new city stop signs called for a "dead stop." The unidentified woman driver saw it this way: "A 'dead stop' is when you turn off your switch key and kill your motor."

Atom Being Studied By Key Personnel

NEW YORK —Ten young men representing British industrial firms recently began a course in nuclear engineering at London University, the British Information Service reported here.

They will conduct research into atomic energy and its use in medicine and chemistry. The practical course work will be done in a laboratory 40 feet underground. The students will work under the direction of the staff of Britain's atomic energy staff at Harwell.

The course was started at the suggestion of industrial firms having contracts connected with atomic energy who prefer that key personnel have a knowledge of nuclear physics.

Power of the Imagination

James Daniels Gives
Story On "Driest Dam"

Writing in the New York World-Telegram-Sun, James Daniels describes the world's "driest dam." This interesting edifice, says Mr. Daniels, was built at Cherry Creek, Colorado, by the Army Engineers to catch a flood that might come once in a century. In other times, the creek often contains barely enough water for wading. But the dam stands there waterless—an earthen almost three miles long, 140 feet high, complete with masonry and concrete control towers, spillways, dam keeper's quarters, etc. It cost the taxpayers the neat sum of $15,000,000 which might strike some of us as quite a lot of money to pay for a dam which holds no water and perhaps never will.

The dam, it seems, is a trophy of the fight between the Army Engineers and the Bureau of Reclamation to determine which of these eager-beaver federal agencies was going to build all the dams in the Missouri Basin, of which Cherry Creek is a tiny part. According to Mr. Daniels, the army won by "outdoing the reclamation boys in power of the imagination."

This may be an exceptional example of the waste which is part and parcel of the dam building craze. Even so, it is typical of the fact that, if the interested federal bureaus have their way, there is hardly a watercourse in the country which won't be dammed, entirely regardless of the need, and entirely regardless of the cost. And this, in turn, is part and parcel of the campaign to create a federal monopoly of our waterpower—and of everything which goes with it, including land and electricity. The Cherry Creek dam symbolizes the "drunken-sailor" philosophy which has been spending the country toward bankruptcy and socialism.

Nearly four-fifths of the coal produced in Britain is cut and conveyed mechanically.

DURING A 365-DAY TEST at the Mooseheart, Ill., dairy farm, this Holstein cow, Mooseheart Princess Star, set a world record for butterfat production. Conducted by the National Holstein-Friesian association of America, the test showed that she produced 22,644 pounds of milk containing 1,114.6 pounds of butterfat during the year. The old record for the three-year-old class was 1,035.9 pounds. George Eubank (left), supreme secretary of the Loyal Order of Moose, is being congratulated by H. W. Norton, secretary of the association. Merle Howard, Mooseheart dairy herdsman, holds Princess Star. (International)

Cafe Customers To Set Prices

Paul Arsens, indicating he just wants to try a change from old business patterns, said waitresses will give service, but no checks. The customer will even make his own change at the cash register.

"I don't know what will happen, and I'm getting a little scared," Arsens commented, "but at least it will be interesting."

THE GREAT ATLANTIC AND PACIFIC TEA COMPANY

New DP&L Generator Is Started

ROY D. GILLESPIE, 47-year veteran executive who is manager of the Power Production Division, turns on fifth 60,000-kilowatt generator at the O. H. Hutchings Station. Left are Frank M. Tait, Chairman of the Board, and Kenneth C. Long, president of the Dayton Power and Light Company. The new generator (foreground) brings the total generating capacity of the station to 300,000 kilowatts.

Because this community receives its electricity from the Dayton Power & Light Co. it is of more than passing interest to know that the fifth 60,000 kilowatt generator at the $47,000,000 O. H. Hutchings Station, 12 miles south of Dayton, was placed in operation Wednesday.

With the completion of this unit, more abundant power has been made available to the 24 counties in west central Ohio served by DP&L. This area consists of 6,041 square miles.

Generating capacity of the company now totals 520,000 kilowatts, which includes the 220,000-kilowatt capacity at F. M. Tait Station in Dayton. DP&L now has a reserve of 120,000 kilowatts.

The new unit and its auxiliaries cost approximately $8,000,000. The project includes a new boiler, condensing unit, an addition to the building and other auxiliary parts. The project has been under construction for over a year, Long said.

The first 60,000-kilowatt generator was placed in operation in 1948. Three more 60,000 kilowatt generators were added, one each in 1949, 1950 and 1951.

The new generator is part of DP&L's $38,000,000 expansion program for 1952-53. Plans call for completing the sixth and last generator at O. H. Hutchings Station in 1953. This will bring the company's total generating capacity to 580,000 kilowatts.

Since the end of World War II, DP&L has spent over $100,000,000 for expansion. Generating capacity has increased 2 1/2 times.

Dramatic War Films Are To Be Shown Here

A capacity crowd is expected to see the films Gen. Wainwright's surrender of the American Forces to the Japanese on Corregidor; the infamous death march of American prisoners of war after the fall of Bataan; naval, land and air battles showing the recapture of the Pacific from the enemy; dropping of the first atomic bomb on Hiroshima and the surrender of the Japanese in Tokyo Bay at the American Legion Hall here Thursday (tonight.)

All these and many other scenes taken from the official war files and captured enemy films will be shown, starting at 8 P. M.

The film, entitled "Appointment in Tokyo," is the feature in a series of three that make up the program.

The general public is invited and admission is free.

The other films, "The Reserve Team" and "Battle for Time" have also been selected for their timeliness and general interest.

Col. S. W. Van Meter, commanding officer of Clinton County Air Force Base will deliver a short address on the mission of the Air Force Reserve, particularly the 302d Troop Carrier Wing, which the Clinton County Air Base trains.

The program is sponsored by the American Legion in cooperation with the 2252d Air Force Reserve Training Center at the air base.

Smith County Ditch Is Given Approval

The J. A. Smith County Ditch in Green Township has been given the green light by the county commissioners and a viewing date will be announced soon.

The ditch, a repair and clean-out project, was petitioned for by William L. Eakins, Virtus J. Kruse, Fred H. Klager, R. A. Fouch, Georgia E. Cline, W. E. Marshall, H. C. Wain and Robert R. Jones.

Farouk Claims He 'Relatively' Poor Man Now

Ex-King's Income Only About $3 Million A Year Since His Ouster

CAIRO, Nov. 20—It depends on how you look at it.

One way, you can take ex-King Farouk's word for it that he is a "relatively poor man." He has suffered a drastic cut in wages and standard of living.

For instance, at Capri he restricted himself to a $400-a-day lodgings.

The last year he occupied the Egyptian throne he had an income of more than $113,000 a week, just from the state and one reported holding of arable land. He had four major palaces and a half-dozen others scattered around the country.

At Capri he spent $400 a day. In Egypt, his minimum income was $16,000 a day.

The hidden story of the fabulous wealth and income of the play-boy monarch is slowly being pieced together.

EL SAYED Ahmed Khasaba, one of the two custodians of the ex-king's property, has disclosed that part of Farouk's personal holdings included 12,000 acres of the most fertile soil in the Nile Valley. This did not include what is scattered around under concealed names and owned by various members of the royal household.

These particular 12,000 acres have been estimated to be worth $17,220,000. The annual income for Farouk from these lush acres was $2,152,000.

He got another $3,731,000 from the Egyptian state last year to run the royal household.

Just from these two sources alone, Farouk had an annual income of nearly $6 million a year. He had other resources, of course, including his secret holdings abroad. These have been estimated up to $60 million in cash and securities on foreign banks.

When the whole story of the vast Farouk economic structure is pieced together there is virtually no chance that Farouk will ever get a penny out of Egypt.

THERE HAS BEEN a public clamor for confiscation of his properties. Already his four major palaces have been put directly under the control of the government.

All of which makes him a "relatively poor man." His income has been slashed from a minimum of $10 million a year to whatever he can eke out of the investments abroad. That's roughly $3 million a year.

More Comfort Wearing FALSE TEETH

Here is a pleasant way to overcome loose plate discomfort. FASTEETH, an improved powder, sprinkled on upper and lower plates holds them firmer so that they feel more comfortable. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. It's alkaline (non-acid). Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH today at any drug store.

Reds Still Short

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Nov. 20—The United Nations reports that Russia has handed in $2,168,217 on her 1952 UN assessments but still owes more than $4 million.

Rev. Clinton Swengel Is Now in Bellaire

Rev. Clinton W. Swengel, pastor of Grace Methodist Church, is in Bellaire, this week serving as guest speaker for the Ohio Evangelistic Mission.

Rev. Swengel was assigned by Bishop Hazen G. Werner as the speaker at the Bellaire First Methodist Church each evening throughout the week-long service.

Each Methodist Church in Ohio will eventually take part in the Evangelism program of the two Methodist Conferences in Ohio under Bishop Werner's supervision. Ministers from 22 churches in the Wilmington District, including Grace Church in Washington C. H., were assigned to this week's Mission services in a number of eastern Ohio churches.

Although the Mission will continue through Sunday, Rev. Swengel will return here on Saturday.

The evangelistic service for the Methodist Church here is scheduled for February.

Foreign Kids Like U. S. Books

Parents Reached Through Children

By H. D. CRAWFORD
WASHINGTON — Children in many foreign countries are proving the best means of reaching the minds of their parents in the Campaign of Truth the State Department is carrying on to tell the non-Communist world the basic facts about American life and ideas.

National Child Book Week, celebrated this month, has its international importance, for children in 62 nations where the International Information Administration has information centers are showing keen interest in American children's books written by American authors.

Children are among the most enthusiastic borrowers of books in the information center libraries and they are so faithful in returning these books after they have read them that losses are said to be negligible.

Adult members of families of youthful book borrowers are also finding American children's books an excellent way to learn English and to discover American ways and ideas.

SOMETIMES the adults cause the delays in returning these free books. In Mexico, for example, one small boy was late in returning the copy of "Indians in Winter Camp" which he had borrowed from the information center library. He explained that his grandmother was studying English, but "she is getting old and is slowing up in her reading."

The American consul general at Johannesburg, South Africa, has reported that half of the information center library's several thousand membership cards are held by children. Their demand for books is constantly growing and the turnover is rapid.

A book returned by one child rarely remains on the library shelves a day before another boy or girl borrows it. This mounting interest has caused the consul general to request an eightfold increase in children's books.

Enterprising librarians, trained in the ways and interests of children before they undertake these posts abroad, often embellish their children's reading room walls in true American fashion, with cowboy pinups and posters that give an American atmosphere.

Most of these foreign children get their first experience with open-shelf libraries in the information centers. Many of them can hardly believe that they are permitted to "borrow" the books and take them away without paying for them.

THEY SOON realize, however, that they are placed on their honor to return the books when they have read them. Like American children who use public libraries, they seldom fail to return the books.

Numerous parents who bring their children to the USI libraries become interested for the first time in American adult books, and themselves become library patrons interested in learning more about the United States and American ideas.

Officials believe that children's books are playing an invaluable role in the Campaign of Truth. In a few years these children will become leaders in their various countries.

In some of these nations, very young men assume big responsibilities. In Southeast Asia, for example, one young man became a delegate to the United Nations only four years after he left college. Men have become prime ministers within a decade after leaving classrooms. Some law school graduates have immediately become judges.

IRON CURTAIN nations have banned United States information libraries. The only way their youth can be reached is through Voice of America broadcasts. Wilson Compton, United States international information administrator, recently made this significant statement regarding them:

"In our feature broadcasts, we try to influence the youth of Eastern Europe. Under the Soviet system of education, the young people of these countries are taught a twisted version of their heritage, and little knowledge of the great works of their own culture. They hardly know the standards of good usage of their own national languages, for a part of the Soviet system is to debase the language of a conquered country and thus gradually to weaken the sense and the pride of nationality."

The greatest struggle in the world today is the battle of ideas. Foreign children who read American books in the 195 information centers the State Department maintains in 62 countries are not likely to forget the ideas of such Americans as George Washington, Abraham Lincoln and Thomas Jefferson, or the stories of such American authors as Mark Twain or James Fenimore Cooper.

Young minds abroad that are absorbed today with the same books that American children read are likely to be better prepared for a true meeting of minds in the future when they must confront the issues of war or peace and decide the destinies of the free world.

No Rubber Stamp Congress Wanted

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—P.—Sen. Homer Capehart (R-Ind.) says he hopes his fellow Republicans will not become a "rubber stamp" Congress under the administration of President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Capehart says he wants Republicans in Congress to assert their authority in dealings with the White House—something, he said, Democrats failed to do in 20 years of New Deal-Fair Deal administrations. The Indiana senator said he intends to co-operate with Eisenhower, but added: "I'm certainly not going to co-operate blindly."

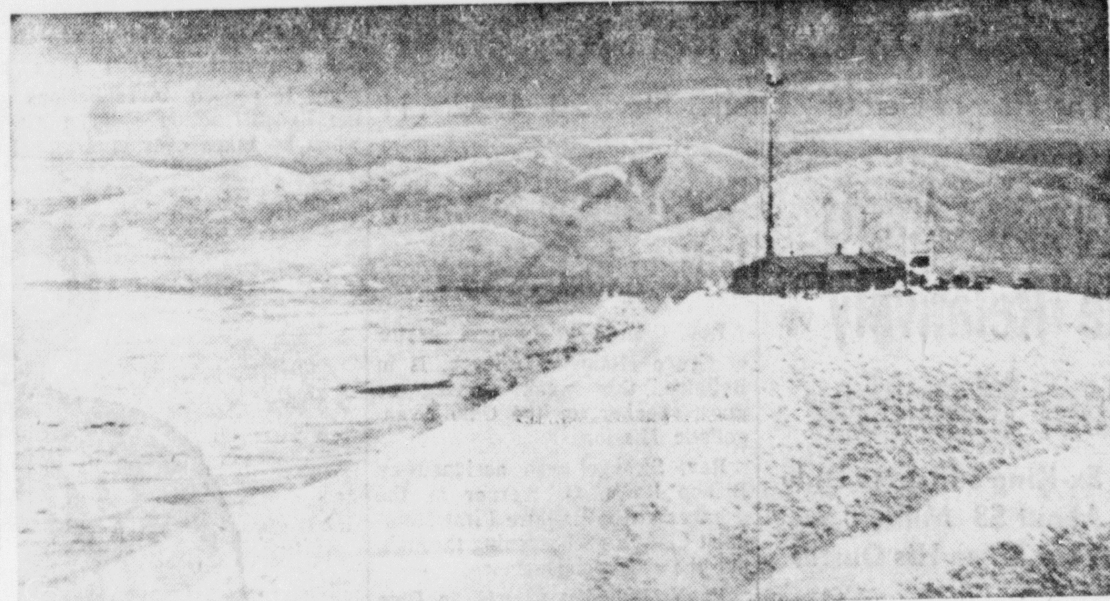

Newest TV Set Has No Tubes

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 20.—P.—Transistors instead of radio vacuum tubes were used to operate a portable television set and electronics experts said the new device some day may cut in half the cost of video receivers.

The television receiver was battery operated and had 37 transistors. The only conventional type of vacuum tube in the set was its own self-contained picture tube. The set is about one quarter the weight and size of a normal home table model receiver.

A BIRD IN THE HAND undoubtedly is worth two on the wing, and these children taking part in pre-Thanksgiving turkey chase in Nevele Falls, N. Y., are in a position to realize it only too well. From left: David Slutsky, 5; Ann Regenbogen, 8; Laurie Regenbogen, 7. (International)

NATION'S HIGHEST TV STATION, KDYL-TV of Salt Lake City, Ut., has this transmitter perched more than 9,000 feet above sea level atop Mount Vision. Electronics experts expect it, along with KSL-TV on a nearby peak, to take television to 87 per cent of Utah's population as well as to thousands in fringe areas of Idaho, Nevada and Wyoming. The two stations will beam programs to 225,360 homes. Salt Lake valley is 4,500 feet below. (International Soundphoto)

Katherine Hepburn Is No Hothead

By MEL HEIMER

NEW YORK — Robert Helpmann is a mild, intelligent man of considerable skill in the theater who views life calmly and rarely allows his blood to come to a boil. Today, though—Robert Helpmann is angry.

Helpmann currently is appearing opposite Katherine Hepburn in the Theater Guild's production of The Millionaire, one of George Bernard Shaw's less notable plays—and what irks him now are the reports straggling here and there that Kate is a difficult soul to get along with. He says it's so much rot.

"When we were appearing in this play in London we hear all the fantastic rumors going around in America that Kate wouldn't permit anyone in the cast to speak to her after the curtain, that the working crew of stagehands and electricians hated her, that she was hell's own fire on wheels," Helpmann said today, shaking his head impatiently. "That is so much absolute bunk."

"You couldn't ask for a more co-operative woman to work with. She's generous and open-minded—and an absolute dream for an actor to play opposite because, she works so devilishly hard at her profession. She's a perfectionist and she works endlessly to make not only herself better but the play, too."

"To say the stagehands are at swords' point with her is ridiculous. I dare say that of all the people in the theater who like and admire Kate, the stagehands lead the list. Contrary to popular belief, she has no 'airs' of any kind—and for that, they love her."

PERHAPS it's because Helpmann's acting style has the same basic roots as Hepburn's—they both favor the dramatic, bravura approach, as contrasted to the realism of the Stanislavsky school, although Helpmann is a quieter performer—that he feels it's tremendously exciting to act with the one-time box-office "poison," la Hepburn.

"She gives so much to the man playing opposite her," Helpmann declared, "that he can't help but pick up his own performance." He added that it even applied to him in this play despite the fact that he obviously doesn't consider "The Doctor," which is his role, the greatest character Shaw ever created.

Helpmann, who knew Hepburn before acting with her—they have a mutual friend in Michael Ben-El-Mechaieq, the British director—said he could find only one trait about her that might rub people the wrong way. "She's got a privacy complex about her personal life," he said. "Won't stand for prying. Matter of fact, I don't blame her for feeling that way at all."

The British actor, who feels right at home in New York (he is staying at the St. Moritz, whose

Michigan Prison Riot Is Subdued

JACKSON, Mich., Nov. 20.—P.—With rioting inmates subdued by shotgun blasts, authorities at Southern Michigan Prison Wednesday began a probe in the third major uprising here this year.

It broke out in the mess hall Tuesday night. For a time there were 2,200 wildly milling rioters involved. More than 20 shotgun blasts were fired into the air. So were several bursts from a sub-machine gun before the two-hour disturbance was quelled. No one was wounded.

SAME NAMES, same home town, same hospital, babies on same day is history of these two mothers, both named Mrs. Margaret Donohue, both of Westbury, L. I., both shown in Nassau hospital, Mineola, L. I. They have the same room, same doctor, so what could be more natural than naming both babies Thomas, which they did. (International)

Methodist Church Adding Members

COLUMBUS, Nov. 20.—P.—The Ohio Area Office of the Methodist Church has announced 1,250 persons had joined the church in the second day of a week-long evangelistic mission.

The figure brought to 2,609 the total of new church members since the drive started Sunday. The office reported more than 63,000 persons attended church services in four districts, Cleveland, Cambridge, Columbus and Portsmouth, in the first two days of the mission.

It has been estimated that the United States will reach a population of 200 million well before the end of this century.

Lions Dominate All-SCO Football Squad Picked by Coaches

Football Title Awarded Lions At SCO Meet

Reserve Basketball Limited To Freshmen And Sophomores

At the annual fall meeting and banquet of the South Central Ohio League, which was attended by coaches, head administrative, the athletic managers from each of the five schools in the league and newspaper representatives, much business was transacted and ideas and opinions were exchanged. The five schools in the league are Washington C. H., Circleville, Wilmington, Greenfield and Hillsboro.

E. Wayne Titus, principal of Washington C. H. High School, was the chairman for the business meeting, which followed the customary dinner at Washington C. H. High School.

Stanley Kellough, principal of Wilmington High School, was appointed as the new secretary at the start of the session.

One of the highlights of the business meeting was the awarding of the track, baseball and football championships for the year. The track award went to Washington C. H., Circleville was awarded the baseball championship and Washington C. H. was awarded the football title for the 1952 season. The Blue Lions had an undefeated football season.

THE NEXT DISCUSSION was on the uniform student admission prices for all of the major sports. It was brought out that some of the schools sell student tickets for 25 cents, while others sell them for 30 cents. It was decided to study the effects of the prices during the coming basketball season and to take up the matter again at the spring meeting in 1953.

Also up for discussion was the selling of programs. Some of the schools sell the programs and others give them away. No action was taken on the matter.

A suggestion was made by Everett Marcum, track coach of Greenfield, to have a master list of all the different game officials. Marcum explained that each school should make a list of officials and let each school vote on them.

Marcum went on to say that this would give each school a better chance to know who is a good official and who is not. He said this idea has worked successfully in other leagues.

HARRY TOWNSEND, basketball coach of Washington C. H., brought up the question of how each school would pay the officials. He noted some of the schools have already hired officials for the 1953 football season.

It was voted to compile a list of officials for the spring meeting and to discuss the matter more in detail then.

Prin. Titus proposed that all junior high basketball games be played the day before the Varsity plays and that if the Varsity game is at home the junior high will play away. He also suggested that the games be played at 4 P. M.

The suggestion to have the games the day before the Varsity game and that beginning with the 1953-54 season the games shall begin at 3:30 P. M. instead of the regular scheduled 4 P. M., was approved.

Limiting the Reserve basketball squad to only players of the ninth and tenth grades was the next item of discussion. This discussion took a big part of the time and was the one most argued over.

THE ARGUMENT centered on whether the Reserve squad should be limited to ninth and tenth graders or should be extended to junior and seniors who could not make the Varsity team.

Coaches Curt Koons and Harry Townsend of Washington C. H. were strongly in favor of letting the junior and seniors play because they could make a good reserve team and they would be cheated out of playing if they could not make the varsity.

Townsend stated that a boy could be kept on the Varsity squad if he couldn't play Reserve but he wouldn't be doing the Varsity any good and he would have to sit on the bench. Koons, who is the Reserve coach, agreed with Townsend and said that a good Reserve squad could be made out of the players who didn't make the Varsity. Washington C. H. and Circleville were in favor of letting the juniors and seniors play on the reserve squad.

Greenfield, Hillsboro and Wil.

AP Guesspert Proud; Only 12 Fumbles On Last Prediction

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 20—There were 21 fumbles in the recent Purdue-Notre Dame game, there were 19 in the Notre Dame-Michigan State game. But there were only 12 fumbles in last week's selections by this reporter.

Thirty-nine picks were correct for an average of 765. So here come this week's selections on the major games:

UCLA over Southern California: Paul Cameron is healthy and just now coming into his own at a time when the two coast powers meet for the conference title and the Rose Bowl bid. This big one will be televised.

Michigan State over Marquette: By a considerable edge.

Georgia Tech over Florida State: If this were a fight it would be ruled "no contest."

Oklahoma over Nebraska: Bobby Reynolds has rejoined his Nebraska mates but it is doubtful if that is enough.

TENNESSEE over Kentucky: The question isn't can Kentucky win? Instead, it is can Kentucky score?

Maryland over Alabama: Alaminington were opposed to the idea because they stated that boys 17 years of age would be playing with 12 year olds and that it wouldn't be evenly matched and also that if a junior or senior got to play they would be knocking out the hopes and chances of a freshman or a sophomore to make a good basketball player.

It was voted three to two in keeping the reserve squad to only ninth and tenth graders.

It was agreed that a player could not play both the Reserve and Varsity game in a league contest the same night; however, he could play Reserve one night and Varsity the next. This rule only applies for league games.

Koons extended an invitation from Washington C. H. High School for the spring league track meet May 6 at Gardner Park. The invitation was accepted by all the schools.

All five schools voted to have league dues of $20 to buy trophies for the winners of the four main sports—football, basketball, baseball and track.

It was stated that $20 would be spent for each trophy and that any money left would be turned over to the secretary to help buy supplies and materials needed for his work. All the dues are to be paid by the first of December.

Wilmington extended an invitation to have the spring meeting, March 18, 1953, at the Wilmington High School. All the schools accepted the invitation.

bama to feel the full fury of Maryland's anger over that upset loss to Mississippi last Saturday.

Notre Dame over Iowa: The last two meetings of these two rivals ended in ties and don't be surprised if this one doesn't also.

Tulsa over Arkansas: After a hesitant start, Tulsa now is the free-wheeling outfit that September seers predicted.

Ohio State over Michigan: There is a flicker of unrest among the Ohio State alumni, but a victory over Michigan would halt it.

Wisconsin over Minnesota: They have taken the snaffler off Alvin (The Horse) Ameche.

Duke over North Carolina: This could be the straw that would topple Coach Carl Snavely out of his uneasy seat at North Carolina.

Southern Cal, UCLA Braced Major Battle

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 20—The football teams at Southern Cal and UCLA eased down a bit in workouts Thursday and, barring the unforeseen, will go into their Pacific Coast Conference championship game in Memorial Coliseum in near-perfect condition.

That possibility that Southern California's great tackle, Bob Van Doren, may not be able to play cast a pall of gloom in the Trojan camp. Dr. Willis L. Jacobus, team physician, said Van Doren has not progressed satisfactorily from a mild concussion suffered in last week's game against Washington.

"It is quite doubtful whether he will be ready by Saturday," said Dr. Jacobus. X-rays and brain wave tests showed no serious injury, but the big defensive tackle has been complaining of headaches.

The battle, with the winner heading on to Pasadena and the Rose Bowl engagement with the Big Ten representative, still shapes up as an even struggle between a pair of teams unbowed and united in eight games apiece.

If either has an advantage, it is a Southern California's greater reserve strength.

The UCLA coach, Red Sanders, while conceding nothing to the Trojans, either on offensive or defense, did admit this:

"Well, they do have more football players than we do."

Ocean Drive, winner of the 1949 Hibiscus at Hialeah, is not a stable pony for Fred W. Hooper's string.

Native Dancer, unbeaten 2-year old turf champion of 1952, will be rested until next spring.

Six WHS Boys On First Team; 3 On Second

4 From Hillsboro Among Starters Two Fullbacks Tie

The Lions of WHS dominated the all-SCO football team chosen by the coaches of the five schools at the annual fall dinner meeting of the SCO League Wednesday night in the home economics department dining room of Washington C. H. High School.

Of the 11 players chosen for the first team, six of them were Lions. Four were placed on the line and two in the backfield.

The coaches spent nearly three hours after dinner behind closed doors making their selections. When they came out of the huddle, they gave out only selections for the first two teams and honorable mention; they gave no indications of how the voting went or whether any of the boys had received unanimous approval.

No single player was picked out for special mention, but Coach Fred Jacoby of Washington C. H. was named the "honor coach" of the year.

In spite of the hush-hush policy of the coaches, it was generally agreed that they must have had considerable picking out the backfield because of the wealth of outstanding players.

From the WHS squad were chosen for the all-star backfield, Carl Smith, the state's leading class A scorer, and Bob Alkire, one of the slickest ball handlers on the circuit.

ENOUGH LIONS were chosen to fill one entire side of the first team line, plus Joe Provost at center. At guard was Dick Waters, captain of the WHS outfit, who played both offense and defense; at tackle was big Jim Perrill and at end was Wayne Van Meter, regarded as one of the roughest blocking ends in the league. In addition to his offensive chores at center, Provost share the linebacking responsibilities with Don Foster, who received honorable mention.

The other side of the first team line was filled completely with Hillsboro Indians. Another Indian, Junior Jacobs, tied with Jim Brooks of Wilmington, for fullback. The other halfback place went to Bruce Pierce of Greenfield.

Circleville was the only school not represented on the first team, although Greenfield and Wilmington each placed only one player on it.

THE OTHER TWO members of the flashy WHS backfield, Charles Holbrook, the fullback, and Neal Childress, the right halfback, were placed on the second team by the coaches.

Bob Deering was the only other Lion on the second team which was made up largely of Greenfield, Wilmington and Circleville boys. Not one of the Hillsboro Indians was picked for the second team, Deering, who had been considered a second stringer at the start of practice, wound up as the regular defensive WHS end and one of the best in the SCO at the position.

The honorable mention selections took in all the rest of the Lions starting team. They included Jack Rettig at end, Max Schlachter at tackle, Walter Pymale at guard, Glen Milstead at guard and Don Foster at center. Incidentally, this was the first year at football for both Schlachter and Milstead; both are juniors.

The whole first team was made up of seniors, but there was a liberal sprinkling of juniors on the second team and three sophomores on the honorable mention list, which included in addition to the five Lions: ends—Richard Williams of Hillsboro, John Tudor of Greenfield and John Jackson of Hillsboro; tackles—Darrell Bullen of Wilmington, Tom Hummel of Hillsboro and Robin Jones of Circleville; guards—George Troutman of Circleville, Vernon Clements of Hillsboro and Carroll Jones of Hillsboro; centers—John Garland of Wilmington; Ted Davis of Circleville; backs—Roger Parks of Hillsboro, John Cole of Hillsboro, Tom Moody of Hillsboro, Dale Inwood of Wilmington and Eugene Bailey of Wilmington.

Johnny Siegal, former end for the Chicago Bears in the NFL, is now practicing dentistry in Plymouth, Pa.

Michigan And Wisconsin Top Loop Statistics

CHICAGO, Nov. 20—P—Wisconsin and Michigan, who have showdown games Saturday for the Big Ten football title and Rose Bowl assignment, also are leading the race for statistical champion.

Wisconsin tops the field on offense in total yardage, first downs and points scored. Michigan holds the defense lead, built on a record of yielding the fewest touchdowns and first downs and fewest yards per play.

Michigan's final foe, Ohio State, boasts the best balanced team, statistically. The Buckeyes rank second on total offense and second on total defense.

Wisconsin's opponent, Minnesota, is last in average points scored, 14 and total yards gained per game, 238.4.

The Badgers are tops in yards gained with 420.2 per game, based on 262.2 rushing and 158 passing. The 262.2 is the Big Ten's best rushing mark. Illinois' 195.8 is the high passing gain.

The passing of Illinois Tommy O'Connell has lifted him into the lead on total offense with 1,112 yards. Wisconsin's Alan Ameche tops the rushers with 596 yards, followed by Michigan's Ted Kress and Purdue's Mal Schmaling with 443 and 442, respectively.

No other low-priced car gives you safety plate glass all around . . . or offers E-Z-Eye plate glass as an extra-cost option.

BODY BY FISHER

Fisher Body is world-famous for smarter styling, for superior craftsmanship, for the strength and safety of Unisteel Construction. Only Chevrolet in its field offers Body by Fisher.

LARGEST BRAKES

Chevrolet's powerful brakes are the largest in the low-price field. This means easier, safer stops. Bonded brake linings—no rivets—last up to twice as long.

CENTERPOISE POWER

Chevrolet's great valve-in-head engine is centered, poised and cushioned in rubber by high-side mountings. Vibration and power impulses are screened out. Performance is smoother!

UNITIZED KNEE-ACTION

The only low-priced car to assemble and balance the front suspension system as a separate unit . . . an important reason why the ride is so outstanding.

With all its higher quality, Chevrolet is the lowest-priced line in its field. And the over-all low cost of owning and operating a Chevrolet adds to your savings while you drive.

LOWEST PRICED IN ITS FIELD

This beautiful Styline De Luxe 2-Door Sedan lists for less than any comparable model in its field. (Continuation of standard equipment and trim illustrated is dependent on availability of material.)

Woman, 60, Pinned 120 Hours In Car

HAMBURG, Ia., Nov. 20.—A 60-year-old grandmother lay seriously injured and helpless for five days and nights in the wreckage of a car concealed in a weeded gully beside a busy highway.

She had a broken left hip, broken left arm, several fractured ribs and was suffering severe shock.

Thousands of cars sped by but no one spotted her.

Her only food was a few pieces of fudge and her only drink a little rain water and a bottle of boric acid solution.

Throughout the 120-hour ordeal, between spells of unconsciousness, she prayed desperately.

And then, by chance, a highway grader operator saw the wrecked car from his high cab. "I just happened to look back for some reason," said Jack Kraschel.

Wednesday, Mrs. Glen McKnight of St. Joseph, Mo., lay in a Hamburg hospital. Doctors said her condition was "remarkably good." They said it was "a case for the medical books."

Mrs. McKnight was driving from St. Joseph to Bronson, Ia., last Thursday when she apparently lost control of her car on a curve of U. S. Highway 275 three miles north of Sidney, Ia. The car plunged down a 40-foot embankment and overturned.

Her injuries and a seat cushion wedged on top of her prevented her from reaching the light switch or horn to attract attention of passing motorists.

When Kraschel reached her Tuesday, she exclaimed: "Thank God! I am sure glad he sent someone to find me."

Lorain Corrects Old Jury System

LORAIN, Nov. 20.—A new list of 60 prospective jurors was certified in common pleas court here Tuesday to straighten out a faulty procedure used for 20 years or more.

It was discovered during the trial of a civil suit it had been the practice, at least since 1931, of drawing 100 names from the jury wheel and certifying 15 names for the grand jury and 45 for the petit jury. The remaining names were not certified, and this was in violation of state law. This time, only 60 names were drawn and all were certified.

Hong Kong is on the China coast at the mouth of the Pearl River.

BANNED from television in Mexico City because her shows were regarded as too sexy, actress-dancer Yolanda Montes arrives in New York City to show her Degas-type figure on American television screens and in night clubs. Known as Tongale, she also is slated for a screen test. (International)

Wounded Youth Is Improving Slowly

John Ackley, 17, who was critically wounded by the accidental discharge of a shotgun while hunting near Mt. Sterling, Wednesday forenoon, is showing some improvement at Memorial Hospital here.

He was reported to have had a "fair" night and appeared somewhat stronger.

He lost a great deal of blood before he could be given first aid and later attention at the hospital.

The charge of shot tore a hole in his chest on the right side, penetrating the right lung.

trict along the Scioto River will receive the most benefit. These counties getting this benefit control a majority through their representative judges on the district board and have been enabled to out-vote the other counties.

The matter is controlled by a board composed of common pleas court judges from the various counties. Judge H. M. Rankin of Fayette County has been one of a few judges who has vigorously objected to counties like Fayette being included in the district, on the theory that some of these counties will not gain any benefit from the project.

The study of the district conservancy plan has, to a large extent, been in the hands of U. S. Army engineers, at least some of whom are reported to have questioned the practicability of the project as set up.

Farmer Sharing New Coal Mine

SEDALIA, Mo., Nov. 20.—P.—Generous John Cole has uncovered a new crop on his farm and he's letting neighbors share in the harvest.

Cole's crop is coal.

This year's drought brought the blessing. The creek on his 387-acre farm 10 miles southwest of here dried up, baring a rich vein of coal. Now his friends are helping each other dig a winter's supply of free fuel. "I wouldn't charge anything for this coal," he said.

Industrial Tiffs Being Predicted

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 20.—P.—Industrial struggles due to the change in administrations are forecast by David L. Cole, new director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

Cole told a public forum here that "there are some industry representatives who believe it is now their chance to demand laws favoring their side." Some labor people, he said, "assume that this is the prevailing attitude of industry and are preparing to fight desperately every move or suggestion made by management."
